

Dacia Moore, LPC
Author, Trainer, Speaker

What others say about Dacia's training:

"I love what I do, and I always like to learn new ways to help my students to be successful. You are a great motivational speaker."

"Very helpful. One can sense your passion when you speak. Thank you!"

"You gave all of us a chance to discuss common behaviors and diagnose what strategies may help."

"I thought you were great! I only wish it could have been a longer workshop."

Dacia Moore has made a career of helping educators bring out the best in their students and improve behavioral outcomes and performance. She helps her clients and attendees at her seminars find new avenues of achieving personal and professional success. A dynamic and engaging presenter, Dacia shares strategies that are proven to work in the real world and have applications in every avenue of life, including the workplace, the classroom, and family life,

As a highly respected author, her book Why Are So Many Students So Angry? has helped hundreds of educators with insights, techniques and tools that they have used successfully. That is why Dacia has expanded her reach by producing monthly e-newsletters, writing articles that have been published by the Kansas City Star and continues to be called upon by radio shows to provide her expertise.

In addition to her thriving counseling practice and speaking engagements, she serves as an adjunct instructor at her alma mater, Webster University, and Penn Valley Community College.
